With its programme „Funding of Interdisciplinary Networking Events“, the Jena Alliance encourages doctoral candidates to design and organise their own academic events with a financial support of up to EUR 1000 per event.

This funding offers the opportunity to:

- broaden one’s own research horizon to include interdisciplinary aspects
- to establish valuable contacts and academic networks within the scientific community
- and to gain more experience in the organisation and execution of scientific events

Who is eligible to apply?
Doctoral researchers that are members of the Jena Alliance of Graduate Schools “Life in Focus” (JSMC, JSMM, ASP, MPSP). Funding recipients are autonomously responsible for the conception, organisation and execution of the event.

What we support
- a guest lecture or a network meeting with an interdisciplinary topic or focus
- a symposium, colloquium or workshop of particular significance for a specific subject area and with an interdisciplinary orientation
